

Data Protection Policy

Introduction - Privacy and data protection as a key policy for Scouting

The Scout Association's commitment to protecting privacy and data protection has been adopted as a key policy for Scouting. This key policy underpins both this Data Protection Policy and other associated policies used by The Scout Association, local Scouting and its membership. It is important to note that as Data Controllers, local Scout Groups, Districts, Counties/Areas/Regions and Countries are directly responsible for any personal data they process and must therefore ensure that they are aware of their responsibilities under the law.

1. Purpose of this Data Protection policy and what it covers

This policy sets out The Scout Association's approach to protecting personal data and explains your rights in relation to how we may process personal data. More detail in respect of how we process and protect your data is provided below, in particular in section 5. [In addition, this policy is intended to be adhered to by each local Scout Unit when processing personal data in addition to or independent from The Scout Association itself].

The Scout Association ("We" in this document) [is registered with the Information Commissioner's Office at] the following address: Gilwell Park, Chingford, London E4 7QW. If you have any queries about anything set out in this policy or about your own rights, please write to the Data Protection Officer (Black Penny Consulting) at the above address or via email at Enquiries.dpo@scouts.org.uk.

We may update this policy from time to time in minor respects, although we will make sure that any substantial or significant changes will be notified to you directly.

2. Some Important Definitions

'We' means The Scout Association

'ICO' is the Information Commissioner's Office, the body responsible for enforcing data protection legislation within the UK and the regulatory authority for the purposes of the GDPR

'Local Scouting' and 'Scout unit' mean Scout Groups, Districts, Counties, Areas, Regions (Scotland) or Countries.

'Personal Data' is defined in section 3

'Processing' means all aspects of handling personal data, for example collecting, recording, keeping, storing, sharing, archiving, deleting and destroying it.

'Data Controller' means anyone (a person, people, public authority, agency or any other body) which, on its own or with others, decides the purposes and methods of processing personal data. We are a data controller insofar as we process personal data in the ways described in this policy.

'Data processor' means anyone who processes personal data under the data controller's instructions, for example a service provider. We act as a data processor in certain circumstances.

'Subject Access Request' is a request for personal data that an organisation may hold about an individual. This request can be extended to include the deletion, rectification and restriction of processing.

'Compass' Compass is a The Scouts Association web-based membership system. Local Scouting must comply with the Data Protection Act 1998 and the GDPR when using The Scout Association's Membership System Compass.

3. What is personal data?

Personal data means any information about an identified or identifiable person. For example, an individual's home address, personal (home and mobile) phone numbers and email addresses, occupation, and so on can all be defined as personal data.

Some categories of personal data are recognised as being particularly sensitive ("sensitive personal data"). These include data revealing racial or ethnic origin, political opinions, religious or philosophical beliefs, genetic and biometric information, and data concerning a person's sex life or sexual orientation.

4. How does data protection apply to local Scouting?

Data protection legislation applies to all data controllers regardless of whether they are charities or small organisations. It applies to local Scouting in the same way as it does to other organisations. Scout units are created and run as independent charities and insofar as they collect and store personal data about members and young people, for example, they are data controllers and must adhere to the law.

[Each Scout unit will have its own data protection policy and is expected to state that it adheres to this policy. In case of any doubt or questions you are advised to contact the Scout unit directly or to write to our Data Protection Officer (Black Penny Consulting) at the above address who may be able to help].

5. What type of personal data do we collect and why?

5.1 Members and volunteers

We benefit from the service of a large number of members giving their time to Scouting at both UKHQ and local Scouting levels. We may hold personal data (including sensitive personal data) about members and volunteers on our membership database. We believe it is important to be open and transparent about how we will use your personal data. Information we may hold about you includes the following:

- name and contact details
- length and periods of service (and absence from service)
- details of training you receive
- details of your experience, qualifications, occupation, skills and any awards you have received
- details of Scouting events and activities you have taken part in
- details of next of kin
- age/date of birth
- details of any health conditions
- details of disclosure checks

- any complaints we have received about the member
- race or ethnic background and native languages
- religion
- nationality

We need this information to communicate with you and to carry out any necessary checks to make sure that you can work with young people. We also have a responsibility to keep information about you, both during your membership and afterwards (due to our safeguarding responsibilities and also to help us if you leave or re-join).

Much of this information is collected from the member joining forms

5.2 Employees (past, present and future)

As an employer, we need to keep information relating to each member of staff who has a contract with us. This will include the pre-employment stage, references, and records relating to the time they worked for us, including probationary, appraisal and disciplinary information.

We also hold information that allows us to pay salaries and work with other payroll and pension providers. Information we may hold about staff includes the following:

- name and contact details
- length and periods of service (and absence from service)
- details of training you receive
- details of your experience, qualifications, occupation, skills
- details of next of kin
- age/date of birth
- details of any health conditions
- details of disclosure checks if applicable
- details of any dependents
- information that allows us to pay salaries and work with other payroll and pension providers
- references, and records relating to the time they worked for TSA,
- probationary, appraisal and disciplinary information.

Much of this information will be taken from the job application form.

5.3 Trustees and members of the governance structure

For the members of The Scout Association's Board of Trustees and its subcommittees, other committees and working groups, we may hold the type of information as set out in 5.1 and also including the following:

- CVs
- Related party information

5.4 Donors

We benefit from donations from members of the public who support our work, and we hold personal data about these donors so that we can process donations and orders and tell donors about our work and campaigns and how they can support us further. We may hold the type of information as set out in 5.1.

5.5 Customers and visitors

We also hold personal data from customers and visitors to our Scout Shops, conference and activity centres. We may hold the type of information as set out in 5.1 and also including the following:

- purchase history
- taxpayer and payment details

Much of this information is taken from online registration forms.

5.6 CCTV

Our UK Headquarters operates a CCTV network to help prevent and detect crime and safeguard (protect) young people and others. If we can identify somebody from a CCTV image, the image must be processed as personal data.

6. Conditions for collecting personal data

6.1 Keeping to the law

We must keep to the law when processing personal data. To achieve this, we have to meet at least one of the following conditions:

- you have to give (or have given) your permission for us to use your information for one or more specific purposes
- we need to process the information to meet the terms of any contract you have entered into
- processing the information is necessary to keep to our legal obligations as data controller
- processing the information is necessary to protect your vital interests
- processing the information is necessary for tasks in the public interest or for us as the data controller to carry out our responsibilities
- processing the information is necessary for our legitimate interests (see below)

Also, information must be:

- processed fairly and lawfully
- collected for specified, clear and legitimate purposes
- adequate, relevant and limited to what is necessary
- accurate and, where necessary, kept up to date
- kept for no longer than is necessary
- processed securely

6.2 Information that we share

We may have to share your personal data within appropriate levels of the Association and with local Scouting, as long as this is necessary and directly related to your role within Scouting. We do not share personal data with companies, organisations and people outside the Association, unless one of the following applies;

- We have clear permission from you to do so.
- If we have to supply information to others (for example payroll providers) for processing on our behalf. We do this if we are asked and to make sure that they are keeping to the GDPR and have appropriate confidentiality and security measures in place.
- For safeguarding young people or for other legal reasons.

7. Keeping personal data secure

Everyone who handles personal data (including staff, members, volunteers, payroll and pension providers) must make sure it is held securely to protect against unlawful or unauthorised processing and accidental loss or damage. We take appropriate steps to make sure we keep all personal data secure, and we make all of our staff aware of these steps, including keeping to our internal information and computing technology (ICT) policy. In most cases, personal data must be stored in appropriate systems and encrypted when taken off-site. The following is general guidance for everyone working within Scouting, including staff, members and volunteers in local Scouting.

- You must only store personal data on networks, drives or files that are password protected and regularly backed up.
- You should have proper entry-control systems in place, and you should report any stranger seen in entry-controlled areas.
- You should keep paper records containing personal data secure. If you need to move paper records, you should do this strictly in line with data protection rules and procedures.
- You should not download personal data to mobile devices such as laptops and USB sticks unless absolutely necessary. Access to this information must be password protected and the information should be deleted immediately after use.
- You must keep all personal data secure when travelling.
- Personal data relating to members and volunteers should usually only be stored on the membership database or other specific databases which have appropriate security in place.
- When sending larger amounts of personal data by post, you should use registered mail or a courier. Memory sticks should be encrypted.
- When sending personal data by email this must be appropriately authenticated and password-protected. Do not send financial or sensitive information by email unless it is encrypted.
- You should not share your passwords with anyone.
- Different rights of access should be allocated to users depending on their need to access personal or confidential information. You should not have access to personal or confidential information unless you need it to carry out your role.
- Before sharing personal data with other people or organisations, you must ensure that they are GDPR compliant.
- In the event that you detect or suspect a breach you should follow your defined breach response process.

All staff undertake regular training to ensure that they are aware of the above rules

8. Responsibilities

We expect our staff, managers, trustees, volunteers, members and any providers we use (for example payroll or pension providers) to keep to the guidelines as set out in our Data Policy and under ICO and GDPR guidance when they are using or processing personal data and other confidential or sensitive information. This is set out more clearly below.

8.1 Board of Trustees

Our Board of Trustees has overall responsibility for the Association and for making sure that we keep to legal requirements, including data protection legislation. Our CEO and senior leadership team are responsible for making sure we keep to these requirements across UKHQ.

8.2 Data protection officer (DPO) or equivalent role holder

TSA has externally appointed a DPO to ensure the organisation is monitoring compliance with GDPR and other Data Protection laws, our data protection policies, awareness- raising, training, and audits. Local Scouting Units should consider appointing their own DPO. The data protection officer is responsible for:

- making sure that this data protection policy is up to date
- advising you on data protection issues
- dealing with complaints about how we use personal and sensitive personal data
- reporting to the ICO if we do not keep to any regulations or legislation

8.3 Staff

All staff have a responsibility to keep to the requirements of this data protection policy and our related procedures and processes. Managers are responsible for making sure that staff within their teams are aware of and keep to this. If you become aware of a data protection issue you must report it promptly to the data protection officer or equivalent role holder.

If you do not keep to this data protection policy and its associated policies and procedures, we may take disciplinary action against you.

8.4 Volunteers, members and local Scouting

We expect you to keep to data protection legislation and this data protection policy, and to follow the relevant rules set out in our Policy, Organisation and Rules (POR).

The local executive committee (trustees of local Groups, Districts, Areas, Counties, Countries and so on) has overall responsibility for keeping to data protection regulations.

As part of your data protection duties, you should report urgently (to your local manager or the executive committee) any instance where the rules on how we handle personal data are broken (or might be broken).

9. Data Retention

We may keep information for different periods of time for different purposes as required by law or best practice. Individual departments include these time periods in their processes. We make sure we store this in line with our Data Retention Policy.

As far as membership information is concerned, to make sure of continuity (for example if you leave and then re-join) and to carry out our legal responsibilities relating to safeguarding young people, we keep your membership information throughout your membership and after it ends, and we make sure we store it securely.

Only those staff who need membership information to carry out their role have access to that information.

10. Rights to accessing and updating personal data

Under data protection law, individuals have a number of rights in relation to their personal data.

(a) The right to information: As a data controller, we must give you a certain amount of information about how we collect and process information about you. This information needs to be concise, transparent, understandable and accessible.

(b) The right of subject access: If you want a copy of the personal data we hold about you, you have the right to make a subject access request (SAR) and get a copy of that information within 30 days.

(c) The right to rectification: You have the right to ask us, as data controller, to correct mistakes in the personal data we hold about you.

(d) The right to erasure (right to be forgotten): You can ask us to delete your personal data if it is no longer needed for its original purpose, or if you have given us permission to process it and you withdraw that permission (or where there is no other lawful basis for processing it).

(e) The right to restrict processing: In certain circumstances where, for lawful or legitimate purposes we cannot delete your relevant personal information or if you do not want us to delete it, we can continue to store it for restricted purposes. This is an absolute right unless we have a lawful purpose to have it that overwrites your rights.

(f) The obligation to notify relevant third parties: If we have shared information with other people or organisations, and you then ask us to do either (c), (d) or (e) above, as data controller we must tell the other person or organisation (unless this is impossible or involves effort that is out of proportion to the matter).

(g) The right to data portability: This allows you to transfer your personal data from one data controller to another.

(h) The right to object: You have a right to object to us processing your personal data for certain reasons, as well as the right to object to processing carried out for profiling or direct marketing.

(i) The right to not be evaluated on the basis of automatic processing: You have the right not to be affected by decisions based only on automated processing which may significantly affect you.

(j) The right to bring class actions: You have the right to be collectively represented by not-for-profit organisations.

11. Subject access requests

You are entitled to ask us, in writing, for a copy of the personal data we hold about you. This is known as a subject access request (SAR). In line with legislation, we will not charge a fee for this information and will respond to your request within one month. This is unless this is not possible or deemed excessive, in which case we will contact you within the month of making the SAR.

Our members or anyone else we hold personal data about can also ask for information from local Scouting. The relevant Scout unit, as data controller in their own right, must answer these requests. UKHQ is not legally responsible for these local SARs but we advise Scout units to respond to them in line with the law (that is, within the specified one-month time frame and without asking for a fee).

Privacy Statement

(Revised - called 'Privacy Policy' on TSA website at present)

The Scout Association collects personal data in order to carry out its business. As a membership organisation we hold data on members and also staff and others, such as customers and donors. We take the issue of privacy very seriously and are committed to protecting and respecting your privacy in compliance with data protection law. This includes when you use our online services and this privacy statement should also be read alongside our website terms and conditions, which you can find at scouts.org.uk/terms-and-conditions.

1. The information we collect

Membership Data

When a member registers with The Scout Association we ask for their name, email address and postcode. We will also capture the IP address at the time of registration. We also maintain an ongoing record of members' activities.

We have security measures in place to protect our customer database. Access to the membership database is restricted. However, it is the responsibility of each member to:

- keep their password secret
- protect against unauthorised access to your personal details
- to log off from scouts.org.uk service when not using it, and
- ensure against use by anyone else of the scouts.org.uk service through the computer or device that they are using while they are 'logged on' to the scouts.org.uk service.

Due to our safeguarding responsibilities we are legally required to retain certain records relating to all our members indefinitely. We need to make members aware of this when they register with us as should you request at a later stage that we remove all your data, we will not be able to comply with this request.

2. Sharing information

We may share your membership data with local scouting where this is directly relevant to your role in scouting. We may also share data supplied by you (or collected about you) within The Scout Association or with our wholly owned subsidiaries e.g. Scout Shops Ltd. When donating to The Scout Association, we do not store credit card details nor do we share customer details with any third parties with regard to any donation you make. We will not share your data with third parties without your permission.

3. Advertising

Our website (www.scouts.org.uk) or other publications may include advertising for other businesses as part of our operation. We may use, and provide to third parties, your contact details but only if you have given explicit consent for us to do so.

4. Legal Jurisdiction

All personal data and details held on and processed by computers situated in the United Kingdom.

5. Further Scouting related information

We will, as part of our normal operation, communicate information to members which is relevant to their role in Scouting. In addition our website sends out emails with information to our members. However, members can decide which emails they wish to receive as they register.

6. Disclosure of data by law or order of a Court

We may be required to communicate the personal data we hold on a member to a third party if required by law, e.g. regulation or statute or by order of a court.

7. Data Protection legislation

The Scout Association adheres to the key principles set out in current data protection legislation.

You can obtain more information about data protection legislation from the Information Commissioner's Office or if you wish to make a complaint about how we handle your data you can contact them here.
